

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is an inappropriate use of the public airwaves. Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But "Stolen Honor" does not serve to inform the public; it is a blatant one-sided attempt to smear John Kerry's character. At the very least Sinclair should be obligated to have "Going Upriver" shown as well to afford the public a balanced viewpoint. Thank you.
